How did the Fund perform?

In 2024, the Gabelli Growth Fund outperformed its broad-based benchmark, the S&P 500 and its comparative benchmark, the Russell 1000 Growth Index. Economic data generally came in stronger than anticipated during the year, and the Federal Reserve saw enough progress in inflation to support 100bps of policy rate cuts starting in September. Separately, the artificial intelligence space continued to mature this year, and early winners have emerged in the semiconductor and data center infrastructure sectors. Against this backdrop, many of our large technology holdings performed well.

How has the Fund performed over the past 10 years?

The performance chart of the fund class presented reflects a hypothetical $10,000 investment, assuming the maximum sales charge, compared to a broad-based securities market index and more narrowly based indices reflecting market sectors in which the Fund invests over a 10-year period. The chart uses total return NAV performance and assumes reinvestment of dividends and capital gains distribution. Fund expenses were deducted.
