Stocks are subject to market, economic and business risks that cause their prices to fluctuate. When you sell Fund shares, they may be worth less than what you paid for them. Consequently, you can lose money by investing in the Fund.

Standard deviation is a statistical measure of the volatility of a fund's returns. Beta measures a fund's risk relative to the S&P 500 Index which, by definition, has a beta of 1.00. If a fund's beta is less than 1.00, the fund is considered less risky than the market. Alpha is a measure of a fund's actual returns and expected performance, given its level of risk (as measured by beta). Upside/downside capture ratio show you whether a given fund has outperformed, gained more or less than, a broad market benchmark during periods of market strength and weakness, and if so, by how much. R-squared is a statistic that indicates how much of a fund's fluctuations were attributable to movements of the fund's benchmark index.

Returns represent past performance and do not guarantee future results. Due to market volatility, current performance may be lower or higher than the performance data quoted. Investment return and principal value will fluctuate so, upon redemption, shares may be worth more or less than their original cost. The inception date of the Fund was November 1, 1993. The Class AAA Shares' net asset values are used to calculate performance for the periods prior to the issuance of Class A Shares on March 12, 2000 and Class I Shares on January 11, 2008. The actual performance for Class A shares would have been lower and Class I Shares higher due to the different expenses associated with those classes of shares. Performance for periods less than one year is not annualized. Class A Shares (load adjusted) includes the effect of the maximum 5.75% sales charge at the beginning of the period. The Fund imposes a 2% redemption fee on shares sold or exchanged in seven days or less after the date of purchase. Morgan Stanley Capital International (MSCI) All Country (AC) World Index and the Morgan Stanley Capital International (MSCI) All Country (AC) World Communication Services Index are unmanaged indicators of global stock market performance and their returns do not reflect any fees, expenses, or sales charges, and they are not available for direct deposit.

Effective December 1, 2019, the Fund's Class AAA and Class A Shares will be "closed to purchases from new investors". With respect to the Class AAA & Class A shares, existing shareholders may continue to purchase additional shares. With respect to Class C Shares, neither new investors nor existing shareholders may purchase additional shares after the effective date. These changes will have no effect on existing shareholders' ability to redeem shares of the Fund as described in the Fund's Summary Prospectus. Funds concentrating in specific sectors may experience greater fluctuations in value than funds that are more diversified. Investing in foreign securities involves risks not ordinarily associated with investments in domestic issues including currency fluctuations, economic and political risks. Not FDIC Insured. Not Bank Guaranteed. May Lose Value.
